THE GRAND PIANO PRIZE AT HAR.

DIN. A superb $1000 piano will be offered as a prize in the Mozart conservatory of music No school in this country offers such great incentive to earnest endeavor in music and art, and the Mozart is a favorite with as-piring musicians. The prize piano is a "Cabinet Grand," the finest and best made in the world, and has taken seventy-three first prizes in competition with the best makers of Europe and America. The Mozart prize piano is of an entirely new and very ciaborate design; raised panels on front and sides; carved trusses roll fail board and patent music desk; carved panels in place of fret-work; seven and one-third octaves; patent agraffe bridge; three strings; agraffe throughout; four feet ten inches high; five feet four inches wide; two feet fret helpes deep THE GAZETTE is compelled to close the two feet five inches deep.

As the voters can plainly see, a great deal space is consumed in recording the votes n this contest and much of this expense to THE GAZETTE is unnecessary to the main purpose in hand, which is to vote and have it recorded. In view of this fact, THE GAzerru is compelled to limit the space occu-pied by voters.

Worth candidates already announced, not more than seven lines or fifty words (exclusive of date, address and signature), will be allowed to any one letter. Should new candidates be announced more space will be allowed for a fair presentation of such can-didates' claims and qualifications. For out-of-town candidates more space to each letter will be allowed, as not so many batches of votes are sent in for these as for

Matter written on both sides of the paper will not be published, but a notice will be made of such letter. THE GAZETTE has no time to copy letters for the printer since the yelling has become as the the voting has become so heavy.

In all letters be sure to mention the name of the candidate and the number of votes in-closed. The Gazerra understands the "nick-names" given by the friends of the candidates to their favorites, but the committee may question the right of The Gazette to be guided by these popular names.

The ballots are all recounted by The Ga-ZETTE and all mistakes corrected in the official tally sheet. One gentleman voted seventy-two ballots and inclosed only thirty coupons, the other forty-two being mere slips of paper, he having cut through other heets than the one containing the coupon. Sometimes the vote is one or more coupons over or under the claim made in the letter.

200 Votes-Custer Post's Compriments Boneam, Test. July 25.—Down in the human hearts of Custer post G. A. R. a responsive chord is touched, the vibrations of which reach out to Miss Sallie Weltman a soldier's daughter. The heart strings and every emotion of our nature beats for and every emotion of our nature beats for her whose father met us bravely upon the field of battle and when shot and shell flew thicker and faster than the bleached hall of the heavens he had the courage of his con-victions and met the courage of all who were engulfed in the vortex of deadly strife. Brave man was he who went at his country's call. When Custer post remem-bers the heroic struggles of the gallant sons of the South, and they remember that Sal-he Weltman reflects the image of that brave and chivalrous spirit, who is now resting he Weltman reflects the image of that brave and chivalrous spirit who is now resting beneath the sod, we also remember the laptismal entrance in blood of Texan iberties. We do not forget that that flag which is proadly floating from the Arctic seas and commands obedience in the torrid zone, is waving o'er the Lone Star state, the birthplace and home of Saille Weltman, and as that flag is unfuried from the Alamo it marks the resting-place where Crockett. Bowie and Fannin fell. No more fitting compliment could be bostowed by Texas upon this daughter of the Confederacy being as she is the representative of him being as she is the representative of him who is asleep with the ranks of the dead. May the living who wore the blue and the gray extens to Sallie Weltman that comnammity of feeling which is only known to those who followed the fortunes of the flag, therefore the blue says hurrah for the gir whom we hope may represent the gray in Hardin ladies' college. Custen Post, No. 22, G. A. R.
